REMEMBRANCE DAY CEREMONIES ARE WELL ATTENDED

With almost perfect weather conditions the Remembrance Day ceremonies held on November 11th saw a large attendance at the Cenotaph as veterans and citizens gathered in memory of Coleman's war dead.

The day's events got under way with the church parade, directed by Lieut. J. Pratt.

The parade headed by two scarlet-robed RCMP, followed by the R.E.S.L. color party with the 1st Tech Sign Band of the R.C.M.E. along with firing party, veterans, Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Cubs and others was a very impressive sight.

The church parade proceeded to the various churches for services.

Following the services at the churches the parade was returned and proceeded to the Cenotaph where the program was under the direction of Mayor Frank Ambossy.

To open the service Mayor Ambossy called upon the band to play O Canada.

The opening prayer was given by Rev. Dykes followed by the two ministers in silence. Roll call was sounded by Sgt. J. Lowe and with the response by W. Smith.

At 11 o'clock wreath laying will be held in a separate column in this issue.

"Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded by the various churches for services.

Following the services at the churches the parade was returned and proceeded to the Cenotaph where the program was under the direction of Mayor Frank Ambossy.

To open the service Mayor Ambossy called upon the band to play O Canada.

Legion Members Hear Inspiring Talk on Remembrance Day

Following the Cenotaph services a social gathering was held in the Legion club rooms where members were addressed by Mayor F. Ambossy, D. B. Young, Hon. vice-president of the Legion; branch president J. Kulik and the Poppy chairman R. Crippen.

Following is Mr. Young's address: Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Once more on this memorable November 11th, we are privileged to meet here to greet another Remembrance Day, to honor the memories of those brave and valiant men who gave their lives in two World Wars, in the cause of freedom, that great heritage bequeathed to us by past generations and to be guarded diligently with the lives not only of the present generation but by all future generations as free people.

We must never forget, and we must never flinch in our unwavering efforts to maintain a universal peace, and to uphold the sacred principles of democratic freedom in all its respects, with freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and free to live in a manner acceptable to ourselves as a free people.

Should we fail by default in this objective, then we shall have betrayed a trust, betrayed a faith, placed in us by those gallant men, comrades, who, over a period of some 10 years of bloody warfare on land, sea and air, sacrificed their lives, their homes and everything they held dear, so that you and I could live within the structure of a democratic freedom.

We can be assured that the memories of those gallant men, whom we have in past years so revered and honored, will rest content in their heavenly home, if we who succeed them make sure that their hard-earned heritage is not lost, so that their Supreme Sacrifice has not been in vain, for that legacy of freedom they so dearly bequeathed to us, is the most precious of all the privileges of living a free men and women.

We must also never forget that the price paid in human souls to maintain our way of living was and still is, beyond human calculation, and will never in the history of mankind be fully repaid, and will thus stand forever as an unrepaid debt.

Their memories will be honored and revered by the present and all future generations, and "They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old, Age shall not wear them, Their years shall condemn, At the sound down of the bugle, and in the morning, We will remember them."

Remembrance Day also reminds us that we are debtors to their sacrifices to the sacrifice of those brave men who failed to return.

Legion Poppy Sales Up This Year

The Canadian Legion poppy campaign held two weeks ago, showed that the campaign is up considerably from last year, states Mr. Crippen, poppy chairman.

He had high praise for the working committee for the wonderful job they turned in.

Co-operation of the townspeople was highly commendable in supporting this great cause.

Wreath sales, according to present reports, reached an all-time high with donations up from last year.

Mr. Crippen stated that with the present working conditions in the East and especially Coleman, he felt only fair, this year's campaign had exceeded expectations.

He hoped to have a complete statement ready for the public in the very near future showing how the campaign went. He pointed out that donations were not shown on the wreath sales, but would be published in the general statement.

He wished to thank The Coleman Journal especially for the fine publicity given the Remembrance Day and Poppy fund.

Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba possess vast areas of timberlands, and some extensive forest industries.

from those two World Wars, and as pause at this time to remember and acknowledge that debt.

However, it is not enough that we meet here once a year for a few thoughtful moments, but rather we must, in these uncertain days, when once more the sullen threat of war surrounds us, renew our efforts to secure a world firmly founded upon the four essentials of human freedom — freedom of speech, freedom from want, freedom from fear and freedom to worship God in our own way.

In these days of remembrance we must reconsecrate ourselves to the cause of liberty and with the help of God, guard ourselves to defend it.

These gallant men did not die that statesmen might daily in speech towers, men did not die that the upward surge of man to personal achievement should be destroyed, and men did not die that others should conspire to obtain the greatest returns for the least effort, or that lagards might enjoy liberty and be slow to defend it.

Yes, and lest we forget, we shall remain forever debtors to sacrifice, but those brave men saved the world for democracy by their unflinching devotion to duty, their unflinching courage, their faith in God and their fortitude. They flasted and blazed a trail through the ranks of infamy and tyranny to one of freedom, and renewed hope for all future generations.

They carried out their duties on a course that was brave and true, with a willingness that was paid in the untold sacrifice of human souls, so that others could live in safety.

Yes, those are the men whom we have enshrined in our memories on "This Remembrance Day" and may we, as free people, never forget them.

Yes, they bravely, valiantly and victoriously followed the cause of freedom, to

Flameth field where poppies grow our brave men lie there row on row, And in many other lands and oceans dark and deep

Their duty done, their lives they gave, That we may live, their country save.

Remember them our promise keep, God bless them in their glorious sleep. . . .

We cannot think of them as dead, Who walk with us no more, Along the path of life we tread, They have but gone before.

ours are they by ownership, Not time nor death can free, For God hath given us love to keep His own eternally.

Curling Club Meeting Held Sunday Evening

The men's section of the Coleman Curling Club held a meeting on Sunday with W. Fraser presiding.

Several discussions on various questions took place. It was decided by the meeting that high school boys, who wished to curl with the men's teams would be allowed to if they paid a $5 fee to play.

The question of an ice-maker was held in abeyance as the application deadline for this job is on Friday, November 22nd.

Anyone wishing to apply is asked to note the date.

Engagement Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kilgannon of Coleman, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, June Frances, to Mr. John Francis Sandogathe of Lethbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sandogathe of Wardlaw, Alberta. The wedding is to take place on January the eleventh, 1958, at the Holy Ghost Church in Coleman.

Nine-tenths of the forests are owned by the people of Canada.

JAPANESE COAL MISSION TO VISIT PASS MINES

Officials of the Coleman Collieries in Coleman will be host this month when the Japanese Coal Mission visits Coleman to visit the mines in the Crows Nest Pass area.

The men who will visit here for a period of four days are Kazuyoshi Yokoo, chief of the fuel section, Yawata Iron and Steel Co. Ltd.; Fujio Ohashi, chief of fuel section Fuji Iron and Steel Co. Ltd.; Tetsuro Abe, chief of fuel section, Nippon Steel Tube Co. Ltd.; Keijia Sawai, chief of mining section, Nittetsu Kogyo K. K., and Hiroshi Ono, marketing section, Nippon Steel Tube Co. Ltd.

The Japanese mining men left Tokyo Nov. 11 by North West Airlines and landed in Seattle where on Tuesday they visited the bulk coal loading docks and on Wednesday visited the Port of Portland after which they left for Vancouver to look over the dock facilities there.

Thursday the party left by TCA for Victoria where they met with the British Columbia government. Friday saw the delegation fly from Vancouver to Nanaimo where they visited the Nanaimo coal mine.

Sunday, aboard a TCA plane, they left Vancouver for Ottawa, where they met with the Japanese embassy and the Dominion Coal Board.

Wednesday the party will leave Ottawa by TCA en route to Coleman where the delegation will visit the coal mines in the Crows Nest Pass area.

They will leave the Pass for Ottawa where they will again meet with the Japanese embassy and the Dominion Coal Board.

They will leave Ottawa for New York from where they will go to San Francisco, Honolulu and will arrive back in Tokyo on Dec. 2.

During the past month the Coleman Collieries sent out via Portland 1,000 tons of coal bound for Japan where tests on the coal's ability to coke will be made by the Japanese Steel Mills. The coal mined in Victory Creek, just eight miles north of Coleman, is a high grade coking coal and should the coal prove itself satisfactory to mine by the Japanese industries, a promising coal industry could revive the Crows Nest Pass district. Tests on the coal mined north of Coleman have been conducted by the Coleman Collieries and have proven ideal for coking; some 5,000 tons have been taken out of the new prospect, some of which has been sent to United States Steel Mill in Utah.

However, the magistrate, after hearing argument from W. Anderson, crown prosecutor, of Edmonton, decided that the case go to the high court for trial.

The accused, Dominic Hart, was released on $2500 bail.

On Thursday evening, November 14th Seminal Lodge, No. 26, A.F. & A.M., G.R.A., celebrated the 50th anniversary of its constitution in 1907.

The Grand Lodge of Alberta was represented by the Grand Master, Sam G. Bannan, the Senior Grand Warden, David Little, and the Grand Secretary, E. H. Rivers, among others.

There were close to 100 guests at the banquet which opened the celebration. The pleasure of the occasion was considerably lessened by the death on the previous day of T. M. Bannett, a charter member of the lodge, who was to have a 50-year jewel at the gathering.

Following the banquet a meeting was convened in the lodge room which began with a service of Thanksgiving, succeeded by a most interesting recital of historic events in the lodge's history.

The "treeless prairies" of Canada's middle west now contain plantations totalling over 200 million trees.

THANKS

Our thanks to Kenneth Murdoch for the news items he brings in each week on the first Coleman Cup Pack, we are indeed very grateful for these little write-ups and wish more members of organizations would follow his example. It all helps to keep your home town paper rolling as it is impossible for us to have reporters everywhere. Remember the local paper is for everyone's benefit and there always comes a time in everyone's life when we can use its service, so do your best to keep it rolling.

Bring in your news items, but try to have them in by Saturdays to ensure publication the next week. Remember news items are free.

Holmes Heads Alberta Weeklies

Meeting in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, last Friday and Saturday, publishers of Alberta's weekly newspapers elected George Holmes of Provost, as president of their group for the coming year.

Holmes, who publishes The Provost News, heads an executive committee of Post president, Wm. Howes, of Grande Prairie, 1st vice-president, Charlie Winton, Hinton; 2nd vice-president and treasurer, Roy Willes, Stettin; executive members, Tom Ford, Lacombe; Walter Mandrick, Calgary; James Nesbitt, of Brooks; and Ernest Jamieson of Ponoka.

Meeting after the convention the executive reappointed Ken Patenge of Camrose, to the position of secretary, a position he has filled with distinction for the past eight years.

During the convention the members took part in a well balanced program which included a panel on the use of pictures in newspapers, a talk on the increasing importance of business forms to all types of business, and a lecture on gas development and its opportunities for Alberta, delivered by J. P. Gallagher of the Canadian Petroleum Association, as well as discussing several matters important to the association as a group.

The well rounded program was prepared by Walter Mandrick of The Castor Advance, who was extended a hearty vote of thanks by his associates.

Fraternizing visitors to the convention included past president of the National Association, John Vopni of Davidson, Sask. and Mrs. Vopni; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Manning of Reston, Man., and secretary-treasurer of the National Association, Bill Telfer of Toronto.

New officers of the group were installed at an impressive ceremony by Wm. Drayner, of The Westsaskin Times, immediate past president of the national group.

Inclusive of mountain ranges and waterways, only 5 per cent of British Columbia is useful for agriculture.

Wood is converted into pulp by pressing it on a grindstone or by cooking wood chips in a liquor.

Highway Cut Progressing Favorably

The widening of the cut on No. 3 highway is progressing very favorably, and if present progress can be maintained the job will be finished by mid-December.

The cut will be widened by some 15 feet on each side with sidewalks to be built.

In past years considerable danger existed with the heavy traffic and pedestrians walking on the highway.

Mr. Hauran, Department of Public Works foreman, stated "that he did not want to detour traffic down through the town on the old No. 3 route if at all possible, but this will be necessary if motorists continue to ignore the directions of the flagmen."

It appears from recent reports that motorists are continuing to proceed with their careless driving despite warning signs and directions of the flagmen. If this disregard for traffic instructions continues traffic will be re-routed through Coleman.

Former Coleman Resident Passes

Surviving her are one daughter, Mrs. Mary Kwasney of Calgary; three grandchildren, Mrs. Wanda of El Cajon, California; Stanley and Henry of Calgary; and five great grandchildren, one sister in Fernie and one sister and three brothers in Poland.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Anthony's Catholic Church (burial was in St. Mary's cemetery).

Annual District Meeting Held at Fort Macleod

Fifteen members of the Summit Lodge, No. 30, A.F. & A.M., attended the annual district meeting of Masonic District No. 8 in Fort Macleod on Wednesday, November 13th.

Presided over by L. E. Buckwell of Fort Macleod, D.D.G.M., and attended by well over a hundred Masons, from all parts of the district, the gathering was addressed by Sam Bannan, Grand Master of Alberta, and other Grand Lodge officers.

A. B. McMurdo of Pincher Creek was elected D.D.G.M. for the term 1958-59.

OF MANY THINGS Violence Condoned

(By Ambrose Hills)

I've been reading the decision of Mr. Justice John Kearney of the Exchequer Court of Canada holding that the men who refused to cross a picket line are entitled to draw unemployment insurance.

Unemployment insurance for what? They have jobs to go to. Harding Carries Limited of Brantford, Ontario, did not fire them if they wanted them to work. They could have crossed the picket line. The law of peaceful picketing does not condone violence and intimidation of non-striking workers.

Then why do the rest of us have to pay them Unemployment Insurance?

The reason is a shocking one. Justice Kearney ruled as he did because it was clear that these people were too frightened to cross that picket line. There was definitely fear of violence and bodily harm — so much fear that Justice Kearney felt the workers were frightened in not crossing the picket line for fear they'd get hurt physically.

I am not blaming Justice Kearney for this finding; he probably had no alternative but to interpret the Unemployment Insurance Act as he did. Unfortunately, this action appears to condone illegal conduct in picketing.

What is the matter with Ontario that it does not enforce the law of peaceful picketing?

Things have come to a pretty pass when a court ruling implies that it would be bodily dangerous in the province of Ontario to cross a picket line — so dangerous that workers who refuse to do it are considered jobless, and the rest of Canada must pay them Unemployment Insurance!

Many of us out here in Western Canada have known cases where employees contributed to Unemployment Insurance for years but when they needed it, and made application, they were treated mightily coolly by the Unemployment Insurance clerks. It was made mighty tough for them to collect a single cent, even though they'd been paying for a long time and were now genuinely unemployed.

Yet Ontario workers, frightened by a picket line, have no trouble getting a court decision that they must be paid.

What will happen now? Ontario Labor will work this picket-line bureaucracy for all it's worth. A handful of pickets waving sticks can get hundreds of non-striking workers on the Unemployment Insurance payroll and the thousands of contributors who never expect to get a nickel back from their donations will foot the bill.

OF MANY THINGS $920,470.00!

(By Ambrose Hills)

That, my friends, is a whopping big sum of money.

I noticed in the financial report of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and it shocked me. This sum is not for programs, and never guess what it is for, and you'll find it hard to believe when I tell you.

That sum — almost a cool million dollars — was for CBC's Press and information Service.

Now every editor gets envelopes stuffed with mimeographed publicity sheets from the CBC. But not by any stretch of the imagination could those cost close to a million dollars in a year — or even five years.

How is the money spent?

My guess is that the CBC spends far too much on propaganda and not enough on programs. If it would spend the money on good radio and TV shows it wouldn't need to try so hard to sell itself on the idea of State Broadcasting to the people.

If the CBC is spending this huge sum on those mimeographed publicity sheets it ought to cut it out right now and buy space in the papers. For that kind of money, it could run quite a number of fine advertisements about its outstanding programs in the newspapers of Canada.

Of course, this propaganda fund is not the only alarming thing about the current CBC financial report. Many other figures are equally startling, when compared to the money that is actually paid out to performers. When you study the report, you begin to wonder if the CBC's main ambition has much to do with programming at all.

For example, I heard the other day that CBC is adding another facet to its Press & Information Service, and that Ron Nickerson, formerly with British United Press, will be handling it for them. Ron's function, so I'm told, will be "liaison with members of Parliament." Is that a fancy new name for lobbying? And how much will it cost?

It seems to me that the Progressive Conservatives ought to rebuy at once and put an end to some of the more ridiculous CBC expenditures. Let the money be spent on programs, where it is needed, and not on frills.

Performers are charging that they are not getting the money CBC spends around so lavishly. I tried to find out from the CBC's report, where it is going. It was pretty hard to find out. Only in their report on the International Service do they show some actually paid to performers. I'd like to know what CBC Domestic where the big money is — pays to its performers.

Recreation Movement in Alberta

The Alberta Recreation Association is one group which is vitally interested in developing leisure time activities in Alberta.

The A.R.A. is a voluntary lay and professional group whose purpose is to promote and co-ordinate the interests of recreation in all its phases in the province. Some of the functions of the A.R.A. are:

To interpret and promote the values of recreation, to educate its members and the public, to do research and encourage studies in this field, and encourage high standards of procedure and practice in recreation.

A.R.A. Past Highlights

Seven years ago on February 18, 1950, the Director of the Community Recreation Bureau, (then Health and Recreation Branch), invited 10 recreation personnel to a meeting in Calgary. This group formed the Alberta Recreation Executive Association. Today the members of the new Alberta Recreation Association look back on accomplishments as follows: three Christmas Recreation Leaders' Institutes, all of which were held in the city of Red Deer. These three day conferences were co-sponsored by the Community Recreation Bureau. A total of 300 leaders from all over the province participated in the training sessions learning much of value about leisure time activities.

During these seven years the association has had committee workshops on various research studies. The result has been compiling material for publication of four brochures on the following titles: "Personnel Standards in Recreation", "Why Recreation", "Camping Standards" and "Facility Standards in Recreation". These brochures have now been turned over to the Community Recreation Bureau for publication.

A third endeavor undertaken by this group was to do a survey on competitive athletics for children under the age of 12 years. The association went on record in supporting the Recreation Society State Directors and the National Recreation Association of America in their extensive study on the same topic.

A.R.A. Future Plans

First interesting item was at the annual meeting held in Red Deer on May 10 when the A.R.A. voted to sponsor a conference in Alberta of Recreation representatives from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba in 1958 with a view to the formation of a Western Division of a National Recreation Association.

Further that a committee be named by the Association to promote and organize the conference. Mr. T. V. Pettigrew, superintendent of Edmonton Recreation department, was appointed chairman of that committee.

The next event of the A.R.A. is the fall general meeting to be held in the City of Grande Prairie on October 19 at 9 a.m.

The meeting will be held at the Park Hotel, Mayor R. R. Millar will give the welcoming address. A lively agenda is being planned to help the rural centres develop their recreation boards and community programs. At the close of the meeting the city of Grande Prairie will tender a banquet for all those in attendance. Anyone interested in attending (or to arrange overnight accommodation) should contact Mr. Jack Boddington, Recreation Director, Grande Prairie. Car pools are being arranged by Mr. J. Riddle, 425 Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

The people responsible for leading this organization are as follows: President, Mr. Jarvis Miller, Red Deer.

Past president, Mr. A. V. Pettigrew, Edmonton.

Vice-president, Mr. A. Gilmet of Edmonton.

Secretary-treasurer, Miss Evelyn Hage, Edmonton.

Members at large, F/L F. LeFeuvre, RCAF, Edmonton; Miss Heather Symons, Calgary; Mr. C. Burlingham, Stettler; Miss Elsie McFarland, Edmonton.

Publicity, Mr. D. Harvie, Edmonton.

Membership chairman, Jack Boddington, Grande Prairie.

Background Of Stefan Korbonski

During World War II, Stefan Korbonski was Chief of the general resistance in the Polish underground against the Nazis. During the Warsaw Uprising against the Nazis in August, 1944, he was appointed secretary of the Interior in the Polish Underground Government.

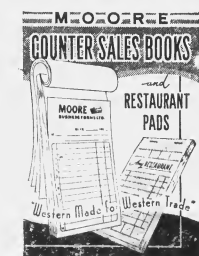

In 1945, when Russian troops took over Poland, he was arrested by the Russian NKVD, while he was head of the Polish Underground Government and acting Deputy Prime Minister.

After release from prison he returned to his political activities in the ranks of the anti-communist Polish Peasant Party, the only opposition party at the time in Communist controlled Poland.

In January, 1947, he was elected a member of the Polish Parliament and in November of that year, when he was endangered again by arrest, he escaped with his wife, Zofia, to Sweden. In November, he came to the United States. He is now chairman of the Polish Delegation to the Assembly of Captive European Nations.

He is the author of two books "Fighting Warsaw", translated this year into English and published by Macmillan Company and "In the Name of Kronin" now in Polish which soon will be translated into English.

Before World War II, Mr. Korbonski was a lawyer in Warsaw, also was chairman of the Polish Peasant Party in the Bialystok district. He fought as a lieutenant in the Polish army during World War II. When Russia attacked Poland, he was taken prisoner, but managed to escape from the jail train enroute to Russia and returned to Warsaw.

First Coleman Cub Pack News

(Column by Kenneth Murdoch)

When invested into the Wolf Cub Pack you can pass any tests in the first star. When you pass all of them a star is put on the right hand side of your cap. This resembles one eye of the wolf and means your half way through cubbing. After your first star you may pass tests in the second star and get Proficiency Badges which are sewed on your right arm. After the second star another star is placed on the left hand side of your cap. This means you are finished in the work of a Cub.

From a school boy's essay "Think of the thousands of millions of Canadians employed as lumbermen."

The famed cedars of Lebanon, once 1,600,000 acres in extent, are now reduced to a few scattered patches.

they'd be cheaper
by the gallon

It costs plenty to raise a family these days. But if youngsters, like your car, ran on gasoline you'd be better off.

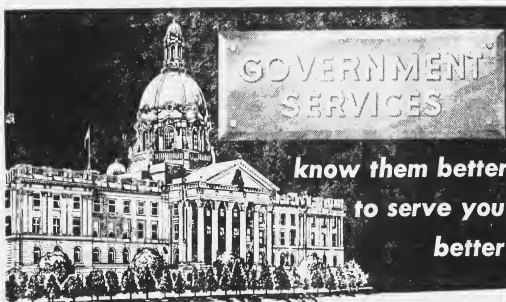

Want to know why? Today everything costs more, including the scores of things a growing family needs. Gasoline costs more, too.

But government figures show that since 1939 the cost of living has gone up more than 129 percent while wholesale gasoline prices have risen about 40 percent — less than a third as much.

And what's more — today's regular gasolines are far superior to the premium grades sold only ten years ago.

CHILD ADOPTION IN ALBERTA

The CHILD WELFARE ACT provides for, and controls, the CHILD WELFARE BRANCH of the Department of Public Welfare. This branch of the Alberta Government is responsible for any adoption of any child in this Province.

In order to ensure that unsuitable persons do not become involved in dealing with child adoption the following section of the Act was introduced:

Except on the order of a District Court judge, no parent shall surrender the custody of his child and no person shall accept the custody of that child without having first obtained the approval, in writing, of the child welfare commission; and a surrender without such approval is null and void.

HOMES FOR CARE OF DEPENDENT CHILDREN

All homes for dependent children are authorized and maintained by the Child Welfare Branch under the Act. To these homes come children whose parents are incapable of caring for them properly and those children who have been abandoned or mistreated.

APPLICATIONS FOR ADOPTION

Adoption applications made by prospective parents are first sent to the HOME INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE. This committee, after a thorough examination of the applicants and their home, pass the application on, if acceptable, to the PLACEMENT DIVISION. The prospective parents then discuss with this branch the individual children available for adoption, and a decision is reached for the placement of a particular child in their home.

IT TAKES TIME

Due to the splendid response to adoption in Alberta, approved applications now accumulate more quickly than children become available for adoption. This, coupled with the care that must be taken before placing a child, creates a waiting period that at first may seem unreasonable to the adopting parents. However, the decision to adopt a child is never made in haste nor is the adoption speeded unnaturally to any risky conclusion.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

Because of the great care taken in pre-adoption planning, reconsideration of a child placement is extremely rare. A one year period is however, provided by the Act to insure that there is complete adjustment of the parents and the child in their new life together.

DISTRICT COURT MAKES ADOPTION FINAL

The new parents make petition to the District Court for legal adoption papers. This petition along with a full recommendation by the Child Welfare Commission is considered by the District Court Judge before a legal adoption order is issued. The child, to all intents and purposes, is legally a child of the new parents. A new birth certificate is issued and all records pertaining to the adoption are placed in a sealed packet.

FOSTER HOMES

Private homes, voluntarily contributed, for the care of children are always in demand. If the child is not adopted, a good foster home will provide the love and understanding so necessary to his development.

New Industry Projected For Crows Nest Pass

A new industry in the form of a saw and planing mill will probably be into operation in the Crows Nest Pass some time next year.

The operation is expected to be located near Frank by the Atlas Lumber Co. Ltd., and the announcement of the industry follows reports of the purchase of two berths of timber in the Crows Nest Pass.

One of the berths is said to have an estimated 28,000,000 feet of lumber. Both berths are located north of Sentinel.

Reports state lumbering operations in the two tracts of timber will start this winter and a contract for the job has already been let.

Site Sold

Mayor Frank Vejprava of the village of Frank stated a deal has been closed with Atlas Lumber Company of Calgary for from 70 to 80 acres of land as the site for a planing mill.

The land lies south of the CPR railway tracks and west of the Gold Creek. Mayor Vejprava also said a railway spur will be built to the mill site, and he indicated Atlas is interested in the purchase of lots on the Frank main street for the construction of a retail outlet, possibly at a later date.

The mill itself, he felt, will employ possibly at least 30 men, which would be "a great shot in the arm" for the village of Frank and the whole Crows Nest Pass.

Leveling Grounds

He said operations for leveling the grounds will start immediately.

John Kostenuk, a Blainmore contractor, has been hired to start cutting lumber in the Vicary Creek timber berth, north of Sentinel.

Mr. Kostenuk is already setting up a saw mill. Preparations will be made at Frank for stockpiling from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 feet of rough lumber for the planer.

Cutting of timber in the South Horse block also north of the Pass, will start next summer.

The Kostenuk operation will employ an estimated 15 men to begin with.

Prior to the purchase of land in Frank, various locations had been investigated by Atlas in the Crows Nest Pass towns.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Remembrance Day evening saw some culprit enter the Coleman Post Market and take off with a small amount of merchandise.

Town Police Chief E. Corson is investigating, but at press time the culprit has not been apprehended.

Last week what could have been a very serious accident took place east of Coleman when J. Hopkins lost the steering lock on his light delivery while returning from Blainmore. It caused the truck to swerve off the road and roll over twice. Damage was extensive. Mr. Hopkins suffered severe bruises to his mid-section but was not hospitalized.

Coleman Collieries Ltd. are the proud possessors of a new road grader which they require for their extensive road system from the strip mines. A Blainmore man has been hired to operate this machine for the company.

Last week's light snow gave motorists the "Willies" as it turned to ice and made roads very slippery. Sighting crews from the town and the D.P.W. were out in force sanding the most dangerous sections.

Spanish Flood Victims Get Aid From Red Cross

The Canadian Red Cross Society has made a grant of $10,000 to aid victims of floods in Spain earlier this month.

In announcing the grant Mr. Marshall Stearns, chairman of the national executive of the Society, stated the Spanish Red Cross Society advised the League of Red Cross Societies that there was urgent need for anti-biotics as a precaution against possible epidemic as flood waters recede.

"In response to this request," Mr. Stearns stated, "the grant of $10,000 has been used to purchase drugs in Canada, which include penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, sulfadiazine and chloromycetin. These are being air lifted immediately to Valencia, Spain, via Canadian Pacific Airlines."

Earlier this month 14 cases of relief supplies valued at over $2500 were shipped to Spain from the League of Red Cross Societies warehouses in Marcellus. These supplies were made by Red Cross volunteers of the Women's Work committee in all parts of Canada.

In the wake of the worst floods Spain has experienced since the end of the 19th century, the Spanish Red Cross estimates there are close to a million victims living in most precarious conditions, and there have been hundreds of deaths. Damage is thought to be approximately $21,750,000.

Hi, neighbour

they will save you time and money next spring!

First, either drain the radiator and block completely, or fill with the correct amount of anti-freeze. If storing for very long periods, also drain the entire fuel system, fuel tank, settling cup, fuel lines, strainers and carburetor. Remember, fuel left in the tractor for a long period of time may form harmful gum deposits.

Next, remove the spark plugs and squirt light engine oil into each cylinder. Oil the valves and valve mechanism, then turn the engine over a few times to distribute the oil. This prevents rust and corrosion internally.

Now, lubricate the tractor thoroughly to remove any old grease which may contain moisture, acids or other impurities. Wash and clean the dirt off the outside of the tractor... and paint over any bare spots to prevent rust. Make sure the battery is fully charged and stored in a warm, dry place. Check frequently and recharge about once every thirty days.

Last but not least, don't let your tractor stand in the open or be a roosting place for the chickens. If you can't put it in a machine shed, then cover the tractor with a tarpaulin.

Pass Shocked at Death Of John Godfroid

The residents of the Pass were deeply shocked to learn of the death Tuesday evening of last week of a popular former Blainford man.

John Godfroid, 33-year-old sales manager and accountant at the Knight's Lumber Company, Crosses, B. C., was killed accidentally Tuesday evening. It is believed that he had crawled under the house with a rifle to shoot a pack rat that had been around the house for the past few days. From all reports, the gun discharged, killing him instantly.

Deceased was born in Blainford and had received his education here. During the Second World War he served with the ROCAF in Germany and upon his release from the service, entered the University of British Columbia to study accountancy.

He had been employed at Knights Lumber Company for the past 10 years and was a member of the Blainford Masonic Lodge and the Blainford Lions.

Survivors include his wife, Ella, and three children, Richard, four; Kenneth, three, and Gene, one year; his mother, Mrs. M. Godfroid and a half sister, Mrs. Gus Erickson of Blainford.

Funeral services were held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from Blainford United Church with Rev. R. G. Thompson officiating.

Interment was in the Blainford Union cemetery with Hall's Funeral Service handling all arrangements.

Egg Yolk Helps Prevent Rheumatic Fever

In a recent issue of the Canadian Home Journal a writer, Mr. Lawrence Galton tells us of a newly discovered preventative of rheumatic fever - egg yolk.

Rheumatic fever often follows a particular type of respiratory infection. Of 40 children tested susceptible to his infection, only five contracted rheumatic fever when given egg yolk as a regular diet.
